IntuiForms

Features

No Form Filler Software

IntuiForms uses PDF and HTML technology to complete and process on-line forms through your web-browser.

Use Design Package of your Choice

Since IntuiForms supports both fillable PDF and HTML forms, designers may use a number of design products on the market today that saves documents as fillable PDFs or create dynamic HTML forms. You may also continue using the design software currently used by your organization and create fillable PDFs using readily available software. This means there is no immediate requirement to have your forms redesigned. With this concept, organizations are able to have their systems up-and-running quickly and at minimal cost.

Centralized e-form Repository

IntuiForms offers a centralized web-based e-form repository that allows users to access their forms from anywhere, anytime, in either official language.

Data Storage

Data is stored within a central DBMS (Oracle, MS SQLServer).

Active Directory Support

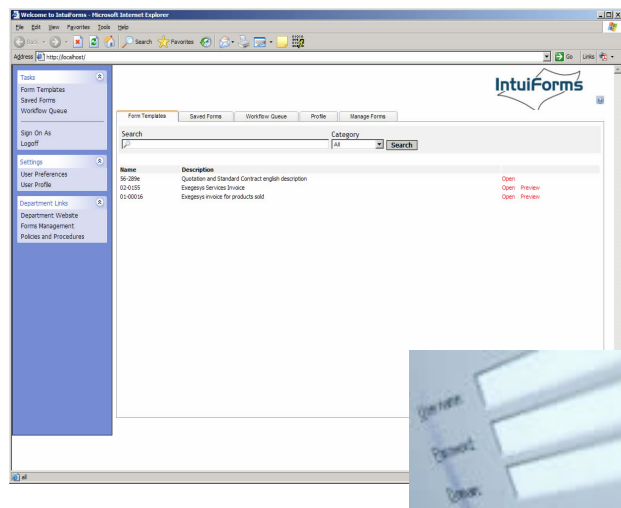

IntuiForms integrates with Active Directory to provide integrated security.

Workflow

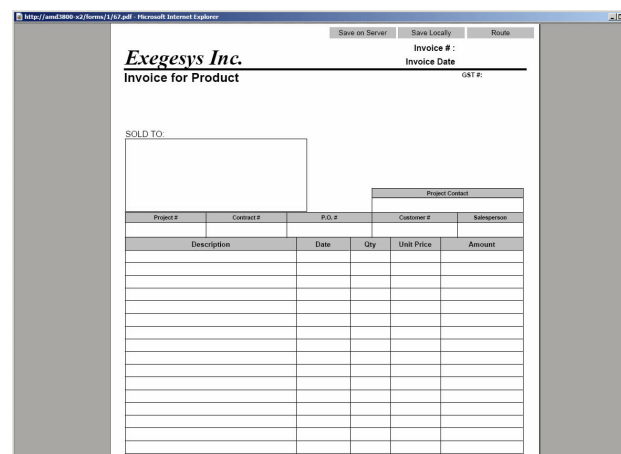

IntuiForms comes with its own Ad-hoc workflow engine.

Enterprise Application Integration

IntuiForms can easily be integration with third party Workflow and Document Management tools within your organization.

Centralized e-form repository using Active Directory for user authentication.

E-form using IntuiForms within standard web-browser.
